SPECIAL The Executor class grand cruiser completely ignores prow critical damage, regardless of the cause. If any critical damage rolled against the table results in a Prow Armament Damaged critical hit, it is assumed the critical damage did not take place, and it does not move up to the next higher critical damage. If the critical damage is caused by the ship taking a hit, the hit itself still counts normally.

Today the Executor is no longer in Imperial service. Few were ever constructed, mostly in the ship yards of Hydraphur and its surrounding forge worlds. The Executor was a lance boat, and as such was much liked by fleet commanders as a counter foil for other more heavily gunned cruisers.

Over the years the Executor's numbers dwindled as each was lost in battle. One of the last remaining squadrons, under the command ship Blood Royale, was stationed as part of the massive fleets defending the Cadian Gate. During a fleet action against Chaos vessels raiding from the Eye of Terror, the Executor class Blood Royale and her sister ships where part of the pursuit force. Having held the line and forced the raiders to disengage, the Blood Royale and a dozen other vessels gave chase. None where ever seen again, their fate remained a mystery. Most believed they had been drawn into a trap and destroyed. Five centuries later three of the missing vessels, including the Blood Royale, were identified as part of the renegade fleet of Warmaster Arca Vilespawn. They are thought to be the only Executors left.
