The Torture class cruiser is the larger of the two vessels which commonly comprise Dark Eldar fleets. As with all Eldar vessels, the Torture class is frequently confused with other craft, and in the light of information gathered from other sectors since the war, vessels of this class are thought to be responsible for as many as thirty attacks previously attributed to other Eldar vessels. Some sensor logs seem to indicate that these vessels share many characteristics with those of the Corsair Eldar codified as the “Shadow” and “Eclipse” classes, leading experts of the Fleet Insturum of Alien Studies to merely classify them as variations of the same. However, other accounts seem to indicate that these vessels are actually some sort of amalgam of these classes, while other encounters reveal characteristics differing so widely in both configuration and armament that every new report makes it even more challenging to properly classify these vessels. The handful of accounts of Eldar vessels of slightly varying configurations attacking one another only add to the confusion, and the possibility that several rivalrous, or even opposed Eldar factions exist cannot be discounted.

The attack on monitoring station Adecca, where three hundred technicians were captured and later hurled from attack craft making low orbit runs over the planet of Bladen seemed almost to invite retribution, and it is now thought by some that in committing acts the Eldar may even be seeking to imitate each other to beget just that.
