The Voss pattern ship design has also been used on an escort vessel, the Falchion class. When traitors made off with the designs for a larger escort ship to fulfil the role for the Cobra destroyer from the Monsk forge world in 761.M40, the Magos set about reconstructing the records of its design with what little information was left behind, and brought it to Voss.

By 261.M41 the first operational escort squadrons based on this new design began to ply the stellar void. Though this design is slowly being distributed throughout the domains of the Adeptus Mechanicus, dissemination has been slow and many fleets still go without a single example of this type. Only two squadrons were operational during the early years of the Armageddon War, the Michaelis Fire Squadron and the Torchbearer Patrol.

An all round escort much in the mould of the widely built Sword class, the Falchion is versatile. It is used for patrolling, convoy escorting and as close escorts to the light cruisers, guarding its larger cousins' rear in battle. Like all the Voss pattern ships, being unique to that forge world, it is not commonly distributed throughout fleets but those that are equipped with Falchions find them a worthy substitute for the common Sword class.
