SPECIAL At a minimum, as many strike cruisers in the fleet must be armed with their basic weapons as listed above as all other variants (with replaced launch bays and/or prow bombardment cannon) combined. Every strike cruiser may take an additional shield.
OPTIONS - May replace its launch bays for strength-6, speed: 30 cm torpedo tubes, which may fire normal or boarding torpedoes. - May replace its launch bays for a firepower-5, range 30 cm (front arc only) bombardment cannon battery for no change in cost. - May replace its prow bombardment cannon for a strength-1, range: 30 cm lance firing Left/Front/Right for +20 points. - May take an additional shield for +15 points.

While a Space Marine Chapter only rarely employs the might of its battle barges, Adeptus Astartes strike cruisers are a more common, although still rare, sight. Often the arrival of a Space Marine strike cruiser is enough to quell a rebellious system. The Space Marines are quick to act if their enemies' surrender is not immediately forthcoming.

Strike Cruisers are fast, lightly-armed vessels which mass slightly less than the Imperial Navy's Dauntless class light cruisers. Their primary function seems to be that of rapid response, reports indicating that they are invariably the first craft to arrive at a threatened planet.

Strike cruisers appear to carry approximately one full company of Space Marines (including support vehicles) and have been observed to deploy them within twenty minutes of arrival in orbit.
